SEAAOC is Northern Australia's largest and longest established petroleum conference and brings together major players involved within Australasia's oil, gas and petroleum industries.

This year's event is specifically timed to take place following the 2024 Northern Territory General Election, providing the perfect opportunity to engage with senior Industry leaders including the newly elected NT Government, and to gain an understanding of their new priorities and plans going forward.

With recent announcements, capital injection and game changing developments, 2024 is shaping up to be a cracker of a year with ENORMOUS potential for project development across the Northern Territory.

SEAAOC is part of NT Resources Week - a joint initiative between Informa Australia & the Northern Territory Government.
